

As clinicians, we recognize that every day brings its challenges, and that every patient contact is unique. Get a chance to learn from others in the field, as seminar participants offer solutions to real life scenarios posed by Dr. Wayne Kerr.

Presenting both clinical and practice management issues that both dentists and dental auxiliary face routinely, our speaker will challenge you to “think outside the box” when resolving these problems. Discover stress-management and life-planning techniques and improve your chances for financial success. Discuss life's inevitable transitions as parents and children age, steps to protect your loved ones, and learn seventeen ways to love life more.

These topics, presented with humor, will give attendees a great deal to consider, and a good bit of homework.
